Founded in 1974, ICCEES is a global consortium of national scholarly associations dedicated to promoting international cooperation and multi-disciplinary scholarly studies of Central and Eastern Europe, including former Soviet countries of Central Asia. ICCEES’ aims are to:

- promote international scholarly exchange and cooperation in Central and East European Studies by holding a World Congress every five years;
- share experience and support in critical methods, scholarly publishing, and organizational skills; and
- welcome young scholars working in the field.

While proposals for complete panels are preferred, proposals are also invited for individual papers and round table discussions. The congress especially welcomes participation by young scholars and graduate students. Panels, roundtables and papers are typically drawn from the following disciplines, although work in other scholarly fields will be considered:
